Hundreds of educational games, activities, quizzes, articles and more, for kids and everyone to use online - and free!

Spring Mills Primary School

- <http://www.studystack.com/>
Parents and teachers will need to assist students with this site until they grow into it. Find data to study or add your own. You can play and learn using flashcards, matching games, crosswords, word search puzzles, hangman, plus other games for any subject. Start now and this may be a site your child uses through college.
- <http://www.funbrain.com>
This site has both Math and Reading activities, but also has games that are just for fun. If you are a first-time player, choose New Player and then choose your skill level. After you complete the first level, you will be given a password to use the next time you play. This keeps track of your progress as you work through the different activities.

Internet Safety Sites

- www.safekids.com

Provides a “guide to making the Internet and Technology fun, safe, and productive.”

- www.getnetwise.org

GetNetWise is a public service created by Internet industry corporations and public interest groups with the goal of having “Internet users be only “one click away” from the resources they need to make informed decisions about their and their family's use of the Internet.”

- [www.common sense media.org](http://www.common sense media.org)

Provides family friendly reviews of media (TV, film, music, Web sites, games, and books) and parent tips on “healthy media diets” for families.

- www.netmom.org

Run by the author of Net-mom's Internet Kids & Family Yellow Pages, a family-friendly directory to 3,500 of the best children's resources the Internet has to offer, this site highlights good sites for kids and provides safety tips for parents.

- www.pbs.org/parents/growingwithmedia

Provides information on how media “can shape your child’s development and what you can do to create a media-literate household.”
