

Scott Douglas Bullett

Scott Bullett was a 1988 graduate of Martinsburg High School. During his high school career he excelled in basketball and baseball. He was a member of the AAA All-State Baseball and All-Area conference teams. Scott was a member of the 1988 All-Tournament Team at the West Virginia State high School Boys Basketball Tournament. Scott continued his professional career for 18 years, including parts of four seasons in the major leagues. He hit .300 or better in A and AA ball in the United States, had a solid season with the Chicago Cubs, then tipped .300 in the independent leagues and numerous times in the Mexican League. His international adventures also took him to Japan and Taiwan. Amazingly, he did all of this despite being undrafted out of high school. Scott continues his love of the game by owning and operating Bullett Proof Baseball Club in Ontario, Canada.
