

attendance MATTERS

Statistics show that good attendance will help children do well in high school, college and at work. In order to help students succeed and stress the importance of attending school, Mountain Ridge Middle is excited to share our new attendance incentive reward program.

Every nine weeks, students who are absent 3 or less days (excused and/or unexcused), will receive an attendance incentive card. Depending on the number of absences, students will be able to choose from ten different academic rewards. These include items such as a homework pass, bonus points and dropping their lowest test grade.

There are three levels:

- Red level = 0 absences; students may choose 3 incentive cards
- Yellow level = 1-2 absences; students may choose 2 incentive cards
- Green level = 3 absences; students may choose 1 incentive card
