

Live in Northern West Virginia?
Interested in School Psychology
but need a flexible degree option?

Marshall University School Psychology Program is recruiting educators with existing Masters degrees for a cohort beginning Summer 2020.

Cohort will meet four weekends per semester in a face-to-face format. Classes will additionally meet one evening per week throughout the semester via an online learning management system. Candidates will complete regular casework and assignments in the schools.

We will accept the first 20 educators who apply to our cohort and meet our specialist level program criteria (which includes a GPA of 3.0 or higher from an accredited institution.) GRE scores are not required for the specialist level program.
